

TEACH-IN: WHO'S NEXT?

North Korea and Beyond

Wednesday, April 23, 2003
6:00 pm - 9:00 pm

NYU Law School - Vanderbilt Hall
Tishman Auditorium
40 Washington Square South

RSVP by Monday, April 21st
apa.rsvp@nyu.edu or 212-992-9653

NORTH KOREA:

North Korea: the sequel

Bruce Cumings, University of Chicago

...and BEYOND:

Nuclear insecurity

Jonathan Schell, The Nation

Little Brown Brother Redux:

The Philippines in the Age of Terrorism

Luis H. Francia, Asian/Pacific/American Studies, NYU

Indonesia and the environmental crisis

Hendro Sangkoyo, Indonesian Mining Network

Pre-emption and the futures of Asia Pacific America

David Palumbo-Liu, Stanford University

In Bush's fight against the "Axis of Evil" it is clear he seeks to move beyond Afghanistan and Iraq to intervene in other countries. What are the geopolitical implications for North Korea, the Philippines, Indonesia, and elsewhere? What about the dangers of nuclear proliferation? And are there alternative solutions?

Teach-in moderated by John Kuo Wei Tchen,
Director of Asian/Pacific/American Studies & Professor of History and Individualized Studies, FAS & Gallatin School, NYU

Co-sponsored by: Law & Society Program & Institute, Dept. of East Asian Studies, American Studies Program, Dept. of History, Dept. of Middle Eastern Studies, Anthropology Department, Gallatin School of Individualized Study

New York University

www.apa.nyu.edu

Asian/Pacific/American Studies Program & Institute

t. 212.998.3700

f. 212.995.4705

e. apa.studies@nyu.edu